D. Flaherty opens discussion up with sharing his experience at the Village Board meeting last month. The Village Board would like the Planning Board to review specifically the use of sandwich boards in the code book. Stewart Peckner has expressed concern about where he can and can not place his open sign for his antique store in the village square. The board discussed short term options for Peckner and will send suggestion back to Village Board that he can temporarily put board on the corner only during open hours so it is more visible and possibly get a variance to keep it there more long term. There was then discussion about what can be changed in the code book long term to help small businesses advertising with sandwich boards. It was suggested that maybe putting up a directory in the village square or at the entrance to the village would be helpful. The board will discuss further and update sign ordinance in the code book in the future.
